CYRIL TUROVSKY'S CYCLE OF PRAYERS IN THE SOUTH SLAVIC MANUSCRIPTS KEPT IN BULGARIA

(Summary)

The peculiarities of the text and contents of the four copies of Cyril Turovsky's cycle of prayers kept at the "Sts. Cyril and Methodius" National Library in Sofia: Nos 7, 272, 430 and 996 are briefly analysed in the article. The authoress indicates some peculiarities of the two redactions of the cycle established by her and points out that the examined copies contain features of both the first and second redactions. In the form of a supplement is published the text of the Sunday prayer of the morning service according to the Russian manuscript No. 802 in the Solovetsk collection of the Russian National Library in St. Petersburg.
